2. Cases

Smart Case Search

Selecting Cases will bring you to the following:

eLaw Search Box allows you to:

2.1) Key in a word and press Enter or Search. Eg Murder. Upon viewing the results, Murder will appear in a bordered Search Text.

2.2) Type in as many Search Texts as you want. So, you can keep refining your search to get your desired results.

2.3) Edit any Search Text. Just type on any word to edit the search.

2.4) Remove a search text by clicking x

2.5) View the search parameters and criteria to keep track of your search options.

2.6) By default, just typing out a search phrase eg Judicial Review, will give you results of the exact phrase first. Alternatively, users may use quotation marks “ eg. “Judicial Review”.

Cases

Cases
2.7) Search by using + and - to refine results. eg. murder + gun - knife will give the results for cases with the words murder and gun in them, but will not include results with the word knife.

2.8) Search using Citation

There are 2 ways to search by citation:

Option a) Type directly into the Search Box in either of the following formats:
   (i) Journal Year Volume Page eg MLRA 2016 4 538
   (ii) [Year] Volume Journal Page eg [2016] 4 MLRA 538

Option b) Click on Case Citations

You can choose the citation from our following reported journals:
- MLRA – Malaysian Law Review Appellate Court (Cases from Court of Appeal and Federal Court)
- MLRH - Malaysian Law Review High Court (Cases from the High Court)
- MELR - Malaysian Employment Law Review (Cases from the Industrial Court and employment-related cases from the superior courts)
- SSLR – Sabah Sarawak Law Review (Cases from the High Court of Sabah and Sarawak)
- Others – Key in citations from other local publishers. eLaw will extract The Legal Review’s version of the judgment that corresponds to the keyed in citation.

Key in Year of the citation (if any)
Key in Volume of the citation (if any)
Key in Page of the citation (if any)
2.9) Advanced Search: This allows users to further refine their research based on specific criteria such as Judge Name, Legislation Referred and Judgment Year.

Example:
Legislation Referred: Employment Act
Judge: Arifin Zakaria
Court: Federal Court

Users may select as follows:
- Applied/Appealed/Followed
- Distinguished
- Not Followed/Overruled
